

Terms & Conditions

This booking is entered into on the understanding that the total number in the party shall not exceed the total available sleeping capacity of the barn excess numbers will terminate the booking arrangement and no refund will be given.

If your party includes any children under five (5) the barn must be booked for sole use.

Sole bookings can only be made by groups that can be accommodated by the maximum sleeping capacity of the barn. Please Contact Barn Owners directly for access details.

Arrival after 4pm on day of arrival and Departure before 10am on day of departure.

For those barns which accept dogs, in order to accommodate dogs, the barn must be booked for "sole use". As the "sole use" rule is a booking condition, visitors coming to stay in the barn with a dog, who have not reserved for sole use, will have rendered their booking invalid without refund. We regret that we do not allow dogs to stay in visitors cars overnight.

Booking Conditions are applied to the minimum number of nights booked and the occupancy levels required. Under normal circumstances, all bookings made are non-refundable and non-transferable.

COVID virus restrictions:

Should there be a Govt. update which prevents your travel and/or stay in the Barn, then your booking can be transferable or refundable. These must be made by the Barn owner.

All occupants of the Barn must adhere to the current Govt. guidance regarding social distancing etc.

The Barn owners do not accept responsibility for damages or loss including accident or injury resulting from the use of barns. The individual Barns' management have the right to ask anybody whose behaviour is unacceptable, or who are disregarding current COVID restrictions, to leave.

Who can stay in a Camping Barn? Anyone can stay in a barn, whether going away with friends, family or as part of a group (they are particularly popular with youth clubs, cycling and walking groups, as well as Duke of Edinburgh Award groups and cadets).

All young people under the age of 18 must be accompanied by an adult.

Professional Caring Groups must book the barn for sole use
